Brendan P. Bechtel

Chief Executive Officer

BIOGRAPHY

Brendan Bechtel is chief executive officer of Bechtel Group, Inc.

Before being elected to CEO, Brendan was Bechtel's president & chief operating officer from 2014-2016. Previously, he served in executive management and operations roles, including president of the company's Oil, Gas & Chemicals (OG&C) business unit, general manager of the OG&C Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG) business line, and senior project manager for the Queensland Curtis LNG project, the first of Bechtel's four LNG megaprojects in Australia.

Brendan first began working for the company during summer breaks in high school. After joining the company full-time, he took on roles of increasing responsibility in field construction, project management, and executive leadership. Brendan is the 5th generation of the Bechtel family to lead the company.

Brendan graduated with a bachelor's degree in geography from Middlebury College in Vermont. He also earned dual master's degrees at Stanford University in business and construction engineering and management.

Brendan currently serves on the board of trustees for the National Geographic Society, in addition to the board of Governors for the National Geographic Society's Education Foundation, both in Washington, DC. Brendan is also a member of the Business Roundtable, and its infrastructure committee.

Bechtel is one of the most respected global engineering, construction, and project management companies. Together with our customers, we deliver landmark projects that foster long-term progress and economic growth. Since 1898, we've completed more than 25,000 extraordinary projects across 160 countries on all seven continents. We operate through four global businesses: Infrastructure; Nuclear, Security & Environmental; Oil, Gas & Chemicals; and Mining & Metals. Our company and our culture are built on more than a century of leadership and a relentless adherence to our values, the core of which are safety, quality, ethics, and integrity. These values are what we believe, what we expect, what we deliver, and what we live.
