BIOGRAPHY

Joe Gebara is general manager of Bechtel Oil, Gas & Chemicals' Offshore business line.

Gebara, a principal vice president of Bechtel, joined the company in 2012 with more than 18 years of experience in the offshore industry.

Most recently he served Technip USA as vice president and manager of the division responsible for most of the company's large-scale spar hull and mooring delivery. Previously he worked for Amoco in a variety of capacities.

Gebara has worked closely with the U.S. Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement and the United Kingdom Health and Safety Executive on several initiatives. These include developing new technology for decommissioning platforms in the Gulf of Mexico and the North Sea.

He serves on a number of other organizations—among them the U.S. Ocean Energy Safety Advisory Committee and the American Petroleum Institute's Subcommittee on Offshore Structures.

Gebara earned a Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering from the American University of Beirut, a Master of Science degree in civil engineering computational mechanics from Carnegie Mellon University in Pennsylvania, and a Ph.D. in structural engineering and applied mechanics from Purdue University in Indiana.

Bechtel is one of the most respected global engineering, construction, and project management companies. Together with our customers, we deliver landmark projects that foster long-term progress and economic growth. Since 1898, we've completed more than 25,000 extraordinary projects across 160 countries on all seven continents. We operate through four global businesses: Infrastructure; Nuclear, Security & Environmental; Oil, Gas & Chemicals; and Mining & Metals. Our company and our culture are built on more than a century of leadership and a relentless adherence to our values, the core of which are safety, quality, ethics, and integrity. These values are what we believe, what we expect, what we deliver, and what we live.
